THE BEAUTIFUL.

BY ANNIE S. BARTLETT.

"The beautiful, the beautiful,
Around me all it lies;
'Tis scattered o'er the verdant earth;
It sparkles in the skies:

Beauty, theme of innocence, how may guilt discourse of thee? If were an angels task the song to sing of that which gladens every eye. A love for the beautiful is implanted in every human heart, A tiny bud at first, it grows with each advancing year until it unfolds into the perfect flower. And yet this lovely trait, this precious gift from the All-Wise, must be cultivated and nursed with tenderest care, or it will fade and die. This neglect to cultivate a love for the beautiful, is shown in the character of those whose eyes are ever closed to the beauty so lavishly showered over the whole earth. And thus into two cases may humanity be divided: those who seek the lovely in everything, and those who pass through life ignorant of the beauty God has profusely bestowed.

To one, beauty nestleth everywhere in all the works of the Creator; there is naught but pleaseth the eye and heart of man. There is an answering chord of sympathy with the charms of nature, ever vibrating in their hearts. Another sees no beauty in the landscape—no beauty anywhere; wondering always why God formed the rosewinted cloud, the fragile flower, or the clustering vine, when the tree and grass and grain should alone occupy the space, and in these latter he discerns no beauty—only they are useful.

Dim must be the outward eye that sees no loveliness in the waving foliage, the rich tints of opening flowers, the stars that glisten in the blue sky above' the sweet warble of the birds—no beauty gladdens the heart of such a mortal. But those who have this gem nourished and perfected in the heart will find everywhere something to please and delight. For there's

"Not a tree,
A plant, a leaf, a blossom, but contains
A folio volume; we may read and read,
And read again, and still find something new—
Something to please, and something to instruct,
Even in the humblest weed."

No place is there where God hath not planted the sign of beauty. Follow the shining pathway to the sea, and note the waves glistening and sparkling in the sunshine, the calm stillness of the night watch, with myriads of silver stars, the soft radiance of the moon, the wild sublimity of a storm where the mighty expanse of waters seethe and foam in mad fury—the noble ship speeding on its way as a thing of life, with the lightning's vivid flash and the thunder's awful roar o'erhead. That is beauty grand and solemn.

Climb the rugged mountain path, or trace your footsteps amid the dim defiles of the majestic old mountain-passes, or over the sandy, desert, thirsty and weary with the heat and toil, you'll find beauty even there; and where the foot of man has ever trod, or where only the wild animal makes his home, the hand of God has sown the seeds of beauty. Listen to what the spirit of beauty saith:

"O, ye who know the way to nature's heart,
And who have learned to enter reverently
The treasure-house of art,
To whom the old world wears a golden glow,
And seasons come and go,
Still with new glory, who delight in all
The joy beneath the summer-blue expanse,
Look up and see your grand inheritance!
O, ye, whose life is joy, you would not miss
So fair a world as this;
Twice will the starry sons of morning fall,
If ye loose heaven"

Turn your eyes toward the setting sun, wrapping himself in his mantle of gold and crimson, note the soft fleecy cloudlets of every form and color, and the beautiful landscape. Now, tenderly the cloudlets gather around him, and in close embrace they hold him until the scene vanishes away in the softer blue of heaven; the sweet twilight floats down on a dusky wing, and the whole earth is enveloped in a mantle of darkness. Lightly the silvery moon appears, surrounded by her glistening train, and the truant clouds fold themselves together in a delicate drapery, and night pins them with a star.

Walk through the forest isles and listen to the low tone of the trees as they whisper their love songs; catch the glimmer of waving foliage, the rustle of fairy wings; observe the tender wild-wood flowers, whose rich perfume pervades all the balmy air, the delicate moss, the tender grasses. See you no beauty there? Wander forth at early morning and list to the waking of nature from her night of rest; a thousand beauties, which pen or tongue of mine can never portray, will richly repay your trouble.

If then the beauties of earth fill us with so rich a feast, and we hold communion with her spirit until they become a part of our being, what must the beautiful scenes of Heaven be? Ah, if with these eyes we could behold the splendors of the jasper walls; the pearly gates; the streets of gold; the pure river of life pouring through rich meadows where fadeless flowers abide; the eternal mansions not made with human hands; the countless forms of white robed angels, with harps of gold, whose glad music fills all the holy air, the light and brightness of sixty yards of carpet, which need no aid of the sun; the great white throne, and Him who sitteth thereon—these are glorious beauties human eye hath not seen, but which are reserved for the spiritual vision.

"So, I beseech you by all things that win
Space for a nobler or a softer thought,
All good that comes unsought,
By that which makes your very sorrow fair,
By all sweet influences in the air,
By that chief beauty which is throned on high,
And for the promise to the pure in heart—
O, man, be pure—be true!
Widening your dense and narrow lives
Till they grow transparencies,
Through which heaven's light may come to you,
That this good world, where yet is not your rest,
May lead you to the best:
And as the outer to the inner court
(It is a step so short),
Make earth to heaven."

BILLINGS ON THE SCHOOLBOY.

I is very eazy tu write about the innercent joys of our schoolboy days. More than 700 composishuns have been composed describing this memorable occasion.

Yure glowing account of "thoze golden hours that lifling fled on silver toes" iz very slick indeed, and goes to show you might had a good time once

But let me ask yu, Bill Bramble:

"Did yu really know it at the time? Didn't you actually think in them daze, with even the big chance yu had, that being an innocent schoolboy was about the meanest bizzness that enny body could foller?"

If enny boddy would give you fifty dollars would you go back and start the innercent schoolboy trade over again, on the same kapital * * * * * Not enny schoolboy innerecence for me, Mr. William Bramble, if yu pleaze—barefooted—a thistle in each big toe, and a stun bruize on each heel, and a rye straw hat without enny handle to it—fried pork for breakfast, and cold chunks, biled injun and milk for supper—hard work from sun-up till sun down, and three times a week, for variety, an apple tree sprout licking in the korn krib—three months, each winter, ov Daboll's arithmatic for educashun, and working odd spells for some skinflint nabor, at eighteen cents a day, tew get spending money for the next 4th ov July.

This iz the kind ov joy that menny a schoolboy remembers and looks back upon, over his shoulder, with the mingled pleasure and remorse that a prisoner feels, who has reached the heights and sees the innercent old jail in the valley. It requires a good deal ov native genius tew work this kind ov young innerecence up into decent poetry.

AVOIDING A DUN.

A compositer in one of the daily paper offices, though a good fellow, like many of the Faustian professors suffers from repeated attacks, of limited finances, or revenue disproportioned to his disbursements. He has no objections to paying his debts, even to the last penny, when he has the money; but when he is short he abhors the idea of meeting one of his creditors, for he hates a dun as he does the d—l or a dirty proof. On one of the last few occasions of the pressures upon typo's monetary market, he was descending from the news room to the street, when he met a collector, who asked him if John H. Smith—giving the printer's name—worked in that office.

'Why do you wish to see him?' asked Smith.

'I have a bill against him (producing it) for $20, left by Dr. A., who you remember, recently died, and his accounts have been placed in my hands for collection.'

'John H. Smith, replied the compositor, repeating his own name slowly, as if it had a mysteriously familiar sound and he was endeavoring to recall it, I have heard that name before surely,—John H, Smith,—John H.—oh, yes! (as if with sudden remembrance) he used to be employed here, certainly, certainly he did. I remember now; he worked next to my case, poor fellow! and the speader paused and looked sad.

'Did anything happen to him!' asked the collector.

'Yes, he died suddenly one morning, of cholery, after attending the sick bed of a friend.'

'Did he leave anything?' asked the man of bills.

'Oh, no. The boys had to bury him. I gave $5 myself to aid in putting the generous creature under the sod. He died penniless.'

'Then there is no use in keeping this bill, I suppose.'

'None at all said S. And as the collector departed, he continued, talking to himself, 'I've got rid of that old bore. It wasn't perhaps, much of a story I was telling. Probably I was only anticipating a little after all—except in the $5 contribution.

A statememt prepared at the treasury department shows that the collection of the internal revenue during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1870, amounted to $24,510,000 more than during the previous year.

A young man recently married, in Beloit, helped his wife while courting to sew together rags enough to make

JAPANESE SCHOOL.

The schools of Japan possess many singularities, especially those for young girls of fourteen or fifteen years of age denominated finishing schools. In these establishments, all masters pay for the privilege of teaching, instead of (as is the case with us) being paid for their lessons. This makes the instruction a labor of love. Then, again, to a certain extent a Japanese young lady is allowed considerable freedom as to the selection of her instructors: she generally prefers the best looking.

A lady principal of one of our finishing establishments for young ladies would not be a little surprised if she could be suddenly transported to Japan, there to study the peculiarities of Japanese customs.

Instead of our closely pent schoolrooms, with the girls sitting bolt upright upon an educational stool, she would find the girls in a delightful garden, fragrant with tea and flowers. She would see a number of little summer-houses, embowered in the midst of those charming vegetable products for which Japan is so justly celebrated, brought to perfection, by the most exquisite horticulture. She would see bright damsels, with cheeks as pink as the roses, moving around with grace ful step, each bearing a small lacquer tray with tea and cake. She would see these damsels, with joyous smile and modest mein wending each her way to summer house. In each of these summer houses she would see a master professor either waiting the return of one of the refreshment bearing damsels, or else sitting by the side of one who had already come back. Japanese girls remain in educational seminaries of this kind until marriage, and they make excellent wives.

An amusing colloquy came off at a supper table on board one of our Mississippi steamboats between a Chicago exquisite, reeking with oil and cologne, who was cursing the waiters, assuming consequential airs, and a raw Jonathan seated by his side, dressed in homespun Turning to his vulgar friend, the former pointed with his jeweled finger and said:

'Buttah, sah!'

'Yes, I see it is,' coolly replied Jonathan.

'Buttah, sah, I say!' fiercely repeat the dandy.

'Yes, sir, I know it—very good, and a firstrate article.'

'Buttah, I tell you,' thundered the dandy, in still a louder tone, as if he would anihilate him.

'Well, gosh all Jerusalem, what of it,' now yelled the down easter, getting his dander up in turn; 'you don't think I took it for lard do you? You must be an everlasting darn fool, and drat you, if you don't shet up your jaw, I'll butter my fists, and cram them down your infernal throat. If you don't hush, I'll get mad. Do you hear?'

A fat old gentleman who had been bit in the leg by his dog came to Jonah in a towering passion, declaring that it was Jonah's dog that had bitten him. Expecting an action for damages the wag drew up the following articles as the ground for his defense.

1. By testimony in favor of the general good conduct of my dog, I can prove that nothing could make him so forgetful of his dignity as to bite a calf.

2. He is blind and cannot see to bite.

3. Even if he could see to bite it would be utterly impossible for him to go out of the way to do so on account of his severe lameness.

4. Granting his eyes and feet to be good he had no teeth.

5. My dog died six weeks since.

6. I never had a dog.

QUANDARIES.

Knocking at the wrong door, and hesitating whether you shall run away and say nothing about it, or stay and apologize.

Crossing the road until you see a gig coming one way and a cab another; so if you move on you are sure to be knocked by one and if you stand still you may possibly be crushed by both.

Finding yourself in a damp bed on a cold night, and cogitating whether you will lie still and catch your death, or get up and dress, and pass the night on the two cane bottomed chairs.

Paying your addresses to a penniless fair one under the impression that she is an heiress; and on discovering your error, having the option of marrying the young lady, or being shot by the young lady's brother.

Dining at a friend's house, where you must either drink wines till you become intoxicated, or refrain till you become disagreeable.

Coming to four cross roads, one of which you must take at random, or just walk back a mile or two and inquire your way.

Being blandly informed by a surgeon that you can either have your leg amputated, or leave it alone and die in few days.

That was but a left handed recommendation given by a western paper, recommending a candidate for office, that during the war his friend had received wounds enough to kill any ordinary mule.

A MULE RIDE IN FLORIDA.

A gentleman writing from Fernandina, Fla., to the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, gives the following amusing account of his adventures with a gentle mule. He says:

The boys insisted that I needed relaxation. My health required it. I had a pretty fair article of health I thought; enough to last me as long as I lived. But I must accumulate a stock for future use. The south was the place to get it. And riding was healthy. The sand was too deep to ride except on horseback, and so I thought I would take a ride. I applied to a livery man for a horse. He had one. He looked sorrowfully at me as though he pitied me. Did I ever ride a mule? I never had. He had as good riding horses as were ever saddled, but if I wanted a "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother,' style of a ride, I would take a mule. I don't consider myself a first-class judge of mules. I had some vague notions in regard to them; supposed they would do a large amount of work, with a very little feed, and were immortal. I had read of one being driven over the same route, by the same boy, for eighty-seven years, and he was a young mule yet. Bring forth the mule. The mule was brought. He was a meek looking cuss—a perfect 'Uriah Heep' of a mule, so far as 'Umbleness' was concerned. At least that was the view I took of him. He was saddled and I mounted For a mile or two he paced beautifully. I thought those old monks I had read about knew what they were about when they traveled on mules. I had a high respect for their judgment. Just then my mule began to show symptoms—symptoms of what I did not know. I found out. Dropping his head between his legs, his heels described a parabolic curve or a diabolic curve or some other infernal curve in the air, and I got off and sat on the ground. I got off over his head, and I did it quick. I'm not so old but that I can get off an animal as quick as a boy. Then I looked at the mule, to see if he was hurt. He didn't appear to be. Then I inquired around to see how I was. I reported an abrasion on the left hip, and a contusion on the lower end of the back. Then I thought I would pronounce a left handed blessing on that mule, and on his forefathers and foremothers before him, and on his children after him. But I didn't. I wondered if he could stand fire. If I had had a pistol, I would have put the muzzle to his ear and tried him. Not that I was hostile toward him, I was afraid somebody might take a ride on him some day and get hurt. But I had no pistol, so that benevolent and sanguinary idea was frustrated. Then I got up and shook the dust off my feet, and brushed the sand off my trowsers, as a testimony against that place. Then I led the mule carefully home and stated my case to the livery man. But when I looked that he should offer to send for a doctor or a samaritan, to do me up in a rag, and pour olive oil and champagne on my bruises he only laughed. And his man that he had to help him laid down on a bench and laughed—and I stood holding the mule—then I laughed. It was ridiculous. But I've a little wisdom. Next time I ride on horseback it will be a different kind of a beast than a bogus jackass.

An aged negress, whose eminent piety had secured for her an extensive reputation, in walking her usual round of visits, dropped in upon a single neighbor, who was equally well known as a temperance man and a hater of tobacco.

After being courteously received, the negress pulled from her pocket a long pipe, and commenced smoking some fine Union tobacco, to the infinite disgust of her host. The man maintained his composure several minutes, but the fumes and smoke became too powerful for him, and rising from his chair, he said:

'Aunt Chloe, do you think you are a Christian?'

'Yes, brudder, I specks I is.'

'Do you believe in the Bible, aunty?'

'Yes, brudder'

'Do you know there is a passage in the Scriptures which declares that nothing unclean shall inherit the kingdom of heaven?'

'Yes, I've heard it.'

'Do you believe it?'

'Yes,'

'Well, Chloe, you cannot enter the kingdom of heaven. Because there is nothing so unclean as the breath of a smoker. What do you say to that?'

'Why I specs to leave my breff behind me when I go to heaven.'

IMPRESSION AT FIRST SIGHT.—This subject, at the supper table, was getting 'talked over,' when the lady who presided over the cup of tea, said she "always formed an idea of a person at first sight; and that the idea she found was generally a correct one."

'Mamma,' said her youngest son, in a shrill voice, that attracted the attention of all present.

'Well, my dear,' said the fond mother, 'what do you want.'

'I want to know,' said young America, 'what you thought when your first saw me?'

There was no answer to this query; but we learn a general titter prevailed, and that Charlie was taken into the kitchen immediately by the servant.

THE BITER BITTEN.

An irascible, gray haired citizen of Cambridge, Mass, felt agrieved at his better half for some short coming, and to revenge himself he took a valuable gold watch he had given her after the marriage ceremony, which he carried to Boston, to sell, giving as a reason that he had no further use for it. The watch was missed, and inquiries made for it, which brought forth the acknowledgment of the aged culprit that he had sold it, and he was now square with his wife for her contumacious conduct. The wife heard the husband's boasting of what he had done without a reply, reserving it to herself to get square with him, which she did by taking his false teeth from his sleeping room while he was lost to all earthly movements. It was her turn in the morning to chuckle when my lord came down to breakfast only to look upon the tasty viands and hastily depart for Boston in quest of the watch, which he soon returned, the wife restoring to him his artificial masticators, the old gentleman promising never to trifle with the wife's feelings or her property again.

PRINTERS AND RELIGION.

The chaplain of a New Hampshire penitentiary says: "I have the happiness to number among my friends many printers, but though it may seem to imply either a lack of ability on the part of the minister, or the want of the qualities, I never succeeded well with that class. For nine long years of my connection with the penitentiary, with all the inducement offered, not one of that trade has connected himself with my congregation, and I do not think a man could be found, of all who ever tenanted our prison, who could set up a column of type. I leave the reader to draw his own conclusions, only remarking that this can not be accidental, nor can the explanation be that the employment keeps them ignorant of the prevailing vices and immoralities, nor yet that, young printers are removed from large masses where corruption engender and spread. In all these respects this class is exposed.—It is evident that the employment has an elevating tendency, and is favorable to intellectual and moral improvement.

A BEAUTIFUL ALLEGORY.

A traveler who spent some time in Turkey relates a beautiful parable, which was told him by a dervish, and which seemed even more beautiful than Sterne's celebrated figure of the accusing spirit and recording angel. "Every man said the dervish, 'has two angels; one on his right shoulder and one on his left. When he does anything good, the angel on the right shoulder writes it down and seals it, because what has been well done is done forever. When he does evil the angel on the left writes it down and waits till midnight. If before that time the man bows his head and exclaims: 'Gracious Allah! I have sinned; forgive me!' the angel rubs out the record; but if not, at midnight he seals it, and the beloved angel on the right shoulder weeps."

If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull and stupid, or debilitated, pain or pressure in the head, take cold easily, you may rest assured that you have the Catarrh. Thousands, annually without manifesting half the above symptoms, terminate in consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive or less understood by physicians. R. V. Pierce, M. D. of Buffalo, N. Y., is the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy—a perfect specific for catarrh, cold in the head, or catarrhal headache, which he sends to any address, post paid, for sixty cents, or few packages for $2. Pamphlet sent free. Sold by druggists.

"Every good act," says Mohammed, "is charity. Your smiling in your brother's face is charity; an exhortation to your fellow men to virtuous deeds is equal to alms-giving; your putting a wanderer on the right road is charity; your removing stones and thorns, and other obstructions, from the road, is charity. A man's true wealth hereafter is the good he does in this world to his fellow men. When he dies people will say, what property has he left behind him? But the angels who examine him in the grave will ask, 'what good deeds hast thou sent before thee.'"

A nice little boy went to the circus the other day, and amused himself by throwing stones at the elephant while he was drinking. When he got through the boy tried to propitate him by offering him a piece of gingerbread. Before accepting the cake, the elephant emptied about sixty-four gallons of water, beer measure, over the boy, and then slung him into the third tier to dry off. This boy is very indifferent about circuses now. He says he believes he doesn't care for them as much as he used to.

The basket trade of Chicago is increasing, owing to the demand for that article in which to leave deserted babies on good men's door-steps.

'My boy,' said a clergyman, 'don't you know that it is wicked to catch fish on Sunday?' 'But I hain't sinned much, yet,' said the boy, without taking his eye from the float; 'hain't had a bite yet.'

A Wisconsin paper mentions a case where burglars broke into a store, but the goods were marked so high that they would not take any away.

COL. EPHRAIM BALL—THE CONGRESSIONAL DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR THIS DISTRICT—THE STARK CO. DEMOCRAT.

We last week somewhat "perfunctorily," as E. Q. an old time correspondent of the National Anti-Slavery Standard used to say, noticed the attitude in which Rep. Ephraim Ball, we suppose since he has been mustered into the ranks of the democrats as the working men's democratic candidate for congress, that he has laid down all carnal weapons and will use the sword of the spirit only, in his race for congress, and that he will while laboring for the "mark of the prize of high calling" of unadulterated loco-focoism endeavor to bring his new confrees up to such a spiritual standard as shall ensure perfect political sanctification, after the faith of all democratic saints, from St. Jefferson to St. Vallandingham. We hope our esteemed friend, McGregor, will not think we are going to omit him, and pass lightly on his claims to being canonized also as a saint, we want to see how well he and the Rev. Col. can keep step to the music of the Stark Co. Democrat. McGregor's doctrine has always been "shoot the deserters," but he always did love treason and traitors, and of course a political apostate like the Col. will get aid and comfort at the hands of McGregor and Schaefer. We believe that it was the lamented Dickens in the Pickwick papers who first gave utterance to the sentiment "adversity introduces men to strange bed fellows." In respect to strange bed fellows politics and adversity have a touch of nature, which it is said "makes the world akin." It has brought McGregor, Schaefer, and the Rev. Col. into sweet and lovely political association; McGregor, Schafer and Ball, all in the same political trundle bed! What a trinity! The 133d Psalm comes up before us with great force. As they have become brethren they will all have a realizing sense of "How sweet and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." The following paragraph from a carefully prepared leader in the Democrat of last week, indicates clearly that McGregor was endeavoring to prepare the democracy for an introduction to Col. Ball, as one who was ready to be tried and one whom the democracy were ready to try. What the democratic convention did on Tuesday last we of course cannot say, but if they did not choke off our beloved friend, Charley Allen, then we are mistaken. The Democrat says:

"We are not authorized to speak for the democracy of this congressional district, nor shall we attempt to do so; and we are well convinced that our neighbors of the Rep. and Rep. are not so authorized either. The democracy of the district when they assemble in convention on next Tuesday, will maturely deliberate on the 'situation' with due regard to principle and the best interests of the country, for the promotion of which they are ever willing to make all honorable concessions.

As for Col. Ball, he is politically, the "soldeir of fortune" and will accept any situation that may be tendered to him by any body however irresponsible. We quote from the Democrat again:

"In the initiation of the affair the democracy have not been consulted, and the movement only shows the deep disgust of the honest and independent portion of the republican party at their unprincipled leaders and 'rings'. In such citizens lies the hope of our country and possibly the election of Col. Ball."

The italics are ours, it is proper to say, but we call on the democracy to make a note of the effort to sell them out. Poor Charley Allen. We had hoped to get the proceedings of yesterday's convention before we went to press.

The Democrat says in the "initiation of the affair the democracy have not been consulted." Upon that point counter affidavits can be had in abundance, and we would not advise Mr. McGregor to risk any veracity upon his statements. We are assured that no one but the democracy was consulted, in the initiative, and that when the initiative was fixed up then the Col. was invited to swallow the sugar coated pill, which he did without an effort. "Ephraim is joined to idols." The hope of a seat in congress has taken him into strange company.

THE STRIKE AMONG THE MINERS.

The strike among the miners came to an end last week. A large number if not a majority of them withdrew from the Union, and went into the mines to work at eighty cents per ton.

After six months of idleness the miners are just where they started, so far as getting the proprietors to come to their terms is concerned, and a great deal worse off in many other respects as they resume work. The time that has gone in idleness will never come back to either proprietor or operative, and those of the operatives who have held out are infinitely worse off. Winter is hastening and with it the wants incident to the season, and it is clearly true, and capable of demonstration that the miners in this valley were never so illy prepared for it.

We had intended to notice at length the condition of things occasioned by the strike, when an article in the Nation, newspaper, fell under our observation, entitled, The Labor Campaign, which we should be glad to reproduce entire, but must be content with a single paragraph. After referring to the causes which have tended to embarrass the business of the country the Nation says:

"Nor is this all, it is not the tariff and the currency only which are helping to give the control of the industry of the country to a few hands. The turbulence and unreasonableness of the working men are doing nearly as much. Take the coal trade as an example. The miners engaged in it are a large and hard working body, whose lot is at best a painful one, and needs all the protection it can get. It is not wonderful that they are eager to extract from capital the last cent of wages it can afford to pay. But they have gone far beyond this and have adopted and tried to carry out the worst practices of the English trades Unionists. They take from the employer all control over the processes of his business, prescribe to him, not only the amount of wages he shall pay, but the methods he shall employ to keep all working men down to the lowest, by prohibiting the display of unusual industry and capacity, and enforce these rules by murder and every variety of outrage. The result is that the coal companies are combining in self protection. It is only the greatest combinations of capital which can stand the shock of incessant strikes and intimidations, and the more capital combines the more labor is at its mercy. But we do not remember to have seen at any labor convention a word of warning as to the obvious tendency of these disorders."

The recent conventions in the west were certainly free from any precept on the subject of the "obvious tendency" referred to in the above extract, and we regret to be compelled to say that disorders, fearful in their tendency, have marked the history of the strike in this neighborhood, which disorders are not at an end as will be seen by reference to our local department, Where and when are these things to end?

THE PROSPECT.—Wherever we hear from, good news comes of the prospect of success for the republican ticket. When there is a full vote out, the republicans are always and everywhere successful. Four weeks from next Tuesday will be the day of the election. Let there be that sort of organization that will bring out the last republican voter. There is neither time nor effort to be lost. Don't wait until after the election and then tell what "might have been."

"I AM DISPOSED TO ACCEPT THE SITUATION." Such was the meek and submissive declaration of one of the democratic magnates of this city, made a day or two since in reference to the probability of Col. Ball's being the candidate of the democracy for congress. Such meekness was altogether lovely, particularly under the circumstances. The remark was made to a good honest Teuton who "chronicles small beer" on the road between here and Canton. One thing is very certain, the Col's supporters here are the democratic leaders. The rank and file are simply waiting to see what is going to turn up next.

Paris September 4.—The empress Eugenie having received assurance from the Prussian government that she will not be treated as a prisoner, has consented to join her husband and son, who also surrendered with his father at Sedan. She will leave for Prussia as soon as her arrangements can be perfected.

Gen. Trochu will at once be made temporary dictator and Paris will be defended to the last.

It is positively asserted that the Emperor Napoleon has arrived at Bouillon, escorted by detachments of Prussians and French. Liege has been selected as his place of detention. Several of Eugenie' ladies of honor have arrived at Brussels.

Ordinance No. 172.

An Ordinance to amend sections sixteen, seventeen, and eighteen of ordinance numbered 139 entitled An Ordinance prescribing the duties of street commissioner of the city of Massillon, and repealing ordinance No. 164, entitled an ordinance to amend sundry sections of ordinance No. '39, entitled an ordinance prescribing the duties of the street commissioner of the city of Massillon.

Sec. 1. Be it ordained by the city of Massillon, That section sixteen of Ordinance No. 139 entitled, An ordinance prescribing the duties of street commissioner be so amended as to read as follows:

Sec. 16. That it shall be the duty of the street commissioner, and all other persons in any manner charged with the supervision, control or management of the streets and alleys, roads and highways in said city, or in any territory annexed thereto for road purposes, to keep a vigilant watch on the same, and over the sidewalks, public squares and commons therein, and when any obstructions shall be placed or thrown thereon that will incommode the public in the use of said streets, sidewalks, public squares, commons, roads, or highways, said street commissioner, supervisor, or other person so charged as aforesaid, shall forthwith notify the person or persons responsible for said obstruction to remove the same without delay; and if such person or persons so notified as aforesaid, shall neglect or refuse to comply with the order of the street commissioner or other person having charge of the streets, alleys, sidewalks, roads, highways, public squares or commons, within a reasonable time by removing said obstructions; it shall be the duty of either of said officers to remove the same at the cost of the person or persons so obstructing the same as aforesaid. And said street commissioner and all other person having care, control or supervision as aforesaid, shall also notify any and all persons depositing any filth, carcase of dead animal or dead animals, or substance of any kind or description, calculated to offend, annoy or disturbe the public, or any individual person, in the use of any street, alley, road or highway, sidewalk, public grounds, commons, or elsewhere within the limits of said city, and upon the surface of the earth to remove the same; and upon his, her, or their refusal to comply forthwith with said notice, said street commissioner or other persons as aforesaid, shall remove the same, and commence an action against all persons liable, to recover the costs of said removal; which action may be commenced before the mayor or other officer having jurisdiction. The said street commissioner or other person so charged as aforesaid, shall abate all nuisances on the streets, alleys, roads, sidewalks, highways, public squares, public grounds or elsewhere in said city, after having given to the parties liable for the existence of said nuisance, and provided said notice shall not have been forthwith complied with, he shall forthwith commence an action against all the parties so liable as aforesaid, as in other cases. He, said street commissioner, shall, as shall all other persons having charge of the streets and alleys, roads highways, sidewalks, public squares, public grounds or commons, or elsewhere, within said city, see that all ordinances requiring paving of streets alleys, and gutters, are enforced, according to the true intent and meaning thereof. They shall report to each and every meeting of the council the number of persons in his or their employ, the number of carts employed on the public roads of the city, the names and number of the persons who have worked out their two day's labor on the streets and alleys, roads and highways of the city, the number and names of those who have paid money by the way of commutation for said two days labor; the number and names of those who refuse to labor or pay money, and the number and names of those who are exempt by law from the payment of money or the performance of labor, residing within the city; and generally and particularly to have and to exercise all useful supervision or control, over all streets, alleys, roads, highways, gutters, sewers, public squares, public grounds not converted into parks and not under the control of the park commissioners, which supervision and control shall extend to all repairs, and shall extend over all other places in said city, for the purpose of promoting the health thereof, subject only to the control of the standing committee of the city council on roads and highways.

Sec. 2. That section 17 of said ordinance be so amended as to read as follows:

Sec. 17. That so much of ordinances numbered 11, 13, 15, 20, 22, 23, 25, 26, 35, 45, 46, 47, 56, 106, 107, passed by the Incorporated village of Massillon, as relate to the duty of the street commissioner, and the whole of ordinance No. 164 passed by the city of Massillon be and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. That section 18 of said ordinance be so amended as to read as follows:

Sec. 18 That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and ten days after its first publication.

Legal Notice.

THE STATE OF OHIO, }
The County of Stark, }
In the Court of Common Pleas.

Charles W. Burress, Guardian of the estate of Herman H Burress, and Mary S. Burress, plaintiff.

Jacob L. Bachtel, Administrator, with the will annexed of Mehitable H. McClary, deceased; Caroline E. Burress, Harry McNeal and Louisa M. his wife, Elizabeth Stafford and John F. Stafford, Jr., Edwin Bayliss and Richard M. Stafford defendants.

The defendant, Richard M. Stafford, who resides in the city of Chicago, and state of Illinois, will take notice that on the 10th day of May, 1870; the plaintiff filed his petition in the above named court, against the defendants above named, in a certain civil action; the substance of which petition is, that by the last will and testament of said Mehitable H. McClary, the executors in her said last will named, should pay the nett proceeds of inlot numbered one hundred and eleven, and thirty feet off the west side of inlot numbered one hundred and twelve in the then village, now city of Massillon, in the county and state aforesaid, to the said defendants, Caroline E Burress, Louisa M. McNeal, and one Mary F. Stafford, during their natural lives, respectively, and that one third in fee should vest in the heirs of the body of each and either of them upon her decease; that the executors in said will named, having declined to act as said executors, the defendant, Bachtel was appointed administrator upon said estate with the will annexed, and that as said administrator without any legal authority, sold and conveyed the aforesaid premises to one John McClymonds for fifteen hundred dollars, who conveyed the same to the defendant Bayliss, by whom the same is now held: That said premises, at the time of said sale to said McClymonds were worth five thousand dollars, all of which the said Bachtel then well knew; that said Herman H. Burress was the only living heir of the body of the said defendant, Caroline E. Burress, at the time of filing said petition that the defendants Elizabeth Stafford and John F. Stafford, Jr., minors aged four years and two years respectively, were then the only living heirs of the body of said Mary F. Stafford, and that said defendant Louisa M. McNeal was then without a living heir of her body. The prayer of said petition is that said sale and conveyance to said McClymonds and said Bayliss be set aside, and possession of said premises be restored to said Bachtel as administrator for the uses in said will designated, and in case the said court finds said sale to said McClymonds and Bayliss to be valid, that said Bachtel may stand charged as such administrator with five thousand dollars, as the balance of the value of said premises, for the benefit of the legatees in said will. That on the 13th day of August, A. D. 1870, the said plaintiff filed a supplementary and amended petition in said court, in which he alleges that since the action was commenced there has been born to Caroline E. Burress aforesaid a daughter named Mary S. Burress, and to said Mary F. Stafford a son named Richard M. Stafford, each of whom holds a vested remainder in the real estate in the petition described, under and by virtue of said last will and testament of said Mehitable H. McClary, which amended petition prays for said Mary S. Burress, the same relief as is prayed in the original petition for said Herman H Burress, and that said supplemental petition must be answered by the 8th day of October, A. D. 1870, or the same will be taken as true and confessed.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

PENSION ATTORNEY'S FEES.—Secretary Cox has given the Commissioner of Pensions an interpretation of the act of July 8th, 1870 in relation to fees of agents or attorneys in the prosecution of claims for pensions or land bounties. Secretary Cox says that if duplicate articles of agreement between the agent or attorney, and the claimant are not filed with the commissioner the fee is ten dollars, and can be no more, and in no case can the the attorney's fee exceed twenty-five dollars. All agents and attorneys will take notice that they cannot very badly swindle the claimants of pensions and bounties.

ED. INDEPENDENT.—Will you please inform me through your paper, if there is not some law, or something of the kind, which prohibits the use of profane and indecent language on the streets, and if there is such a law why it is not enforced? At a certain point on Main street, near the canal bridge it is almost impossible for a lady to pass at any hour of the day or evening without being insulted either directly or indirectly by a crowd of loafers, who, if seems habitually spend their time at that place. A LADY.

[We are not posted in respect to the inquiries made above, but presume there are such laws, either statute or city ordinances, and why they are not enforced is more than we can tell. But certain it is, that the case mentioned by our correspondent is true to the letter. We have often been tempted to say something about it ourselves, but have refrained from doing so in the hope that our city officials would tend to it, without making the matter more public than it is. And to the men who loaf about that place from morning till night, whose sole employment seems to be to make remarks about ladies who have occasion to pass by, and who seem to take particular pains to embellish every sentence they utter with no less than half a dozen oaths, and ending with slang expressions that would put to shame the most degraded resident of Five Points, to them we would say, if they do not soon mend their ways in this respect we will publish their names, and show their character to the public in their true light.]—ED.

ANOTHER FIRE AT THE MINES.—On Sunday morning before daybreak, the engine house of the Willow Bank Coal Co., containing two pony locomotives, used for hauling coal trains to the chutes on the canal above this city were destroyed by fire.

The loss is variously estimated, not exceeding $8000 and is reported to be fully insured in the Putnam, of Hartford, Conn., Home, of Cleveland, Enterprise, of Cincinnati, and Pacific, of Chicago.

There were two watchmen guarding the premises, both of whom, it seems, left their charge and went to a neighboring building, less than two hundred yards distant, while there, a light was discovered in the building destroyed. They hastened towards it but were met by two persons who cautioned them not to proceed further if they valued their own safety. It is evident that they did value their own safety, as they stood and saw the building they were specially guarding burned to the ground with its contents. We give the above as we got it from one of the members of the Fulton Coal and Mining Co., residing in this city and have no doubt of its correctness.

Presuming that a thorough investigation will be had we give the facts as we got them, reserving for the future any remarks we may wish to make.

DEATH OF REV. A. H. THOMAS.—We are saddened at noticing in our exchanges, the death of Rev. A. H. Thomas, Presiding Elder in the M. E. Church, for this district. In our capacity as a journalist, we spent a week in the Pittsburgh Conference while in session, and there made his personal acquaintance. He was a genial true-hearted man, made for the time in which he lived and adequate to the wants of the people with whom he labored. When we last saw him on the streets of this city, we little thought we should so soon chronicle his departure. We have learned none of the particulars of his illness or death, but beg to tender this brief tribute to the memory of one who seemed to us to be the true type of a Christian gentleman.

APPLE THIEVES.—One of our citizens on Sunday last was much annoyed by a band of juvenile apple thieves entering his garden, and carrying away choice apples that he has been many years in cultivating, until he has a nice variety, and quantity sufficient for his own wants. The annoyance is one of many years standing, and he desires us to say that if the depradations are not stopped he will use a remedy that will hurt in its application.

Last evening the "Kendall Band" treated our citizens to some of their best music. We think they are improving in the style of their playing, and for so small a band do remarkably well.

Last week the American came out in a new shape having changed from a quarto to folio form, which much improves its appearance.

Last Thursday evening an alarm of fire was raised, which was occasioned by a spark falling on the roof of the machine shop of Killinger & Co; the firemen were promptly on hand but fortunately their services were not needed.

The Concert given by Mrs. Taft, at the Opera House last evening was very well attended and gave general satisfaction. Those who were acquainted with Mrs. Taft, in years gone by, were quite confident that this entertainment would be one of rare merit, and we are pleased to say that their highest expectatious were realized. The singing and playing were excellent and we should like to give an extended notice of the concert but want of space forbids it.

NOTICE.

To all those who have been in the habit of opening the lock gates, of paddles to same, of the canal locks near this city, I would notify that to do this for any other purpose than for the passage of boats, without a permit, is in direct violation of the law, and will not longer be permitted without putting the law in force. Therefore I suggest to parents to look to their boys, lest some of them be found guilty, and let the men take care of themselves.

R. H. NUGEN.

To the Nervous.

The natural result of exhustion of strength by excessive labor or action is a feeling of weakness, dullness, heaviness, weariness, langor of body or mind, etc. Persons of a weak constitution, or whose habits are sedentary, frequently complain of this relaxed condition of the vital energies; and when persons of a nervous temperament are thus weakened and debilitated, disease inevitably follows, unless it is checked and overcome. All who suffer from these causes alike require a remedy which will strengthen the system without exciting it, and awake a feeling of true enjoyment, so that life may become a source of pleasure. Mishler's Herb Bitters has won its way into the confidence of thousands of this class of persons, who warmly endorse it as the best invigorating agent, and the most potent and genial of all tonics and alteratives for strengthening and restoring the physical constitution.

NEW YORK CITY, March 28, 1870.

Having used Dr. Whittlesey's medicine, I have no hesitation in saying that in my case it proved a decidedly efficacious remedy for dyspepsia, and with the removal of the complaint, promoted a healthy action of the digestive organs generally. I should judge from its effects, that it combined ingredients which serve both as a mild tonic and aperient, contributing to the salutary action of the liver, and the purifying of the blood. Indeed, so happy have been the results produced by this medicine in my cure, that I shall certainly use it in future dyspeptic troubles in preference to any other pronounced remedy with which I am acquainted. I. LUAVYL ODGIERS.

P. S.—During five years' residence in India and Australia, when I was a member of the Civil Service, I experienced, with others, considerable inconvenience from dyspepsia and constipation occasioned by the great heat of the climate, and from what I know of Dr. Whittlesey's Vegetable Remedy, I feel convinced that its introduction into those countries would confer a vital benefit on the inhabitants, by invigorating the action of the liver, and stimulating the digestive organs. The best remedies I could procure at that time, as well as other remedies I tried in England, proved decidedly inferior in their curative properties to Dr. Whittlesey's.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal weakness, involuntary seminal losses, impotency, mental and physical incapacity, impediments to marriage, etc.; also, consumption, epilepsy, and fits, induced by self indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price, in a sealed envelope only 6 cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid on receipt of six cents or two post stamps.

Also, Dr. Culverwell,s "marriage Guide," price 25 cents.

Dr. J. LONG,

Eclectic Physician,

Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of

Female & Chronic Diseases

Office on Main street, four doors east of the American Hotel.

All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.

Dr. Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of my ability as a scientific physician; and by this standard I am willing to be judged.

A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constitutional symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgement of both patient and physician.

Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourselves whether he understands your cases sufficiently well to treat them successfully.

Dr. Long may be consulted in the German and English languages. Address letters,

Sarsaparillian RESOLVENT.

NEW PRINCIPLES OF CURE.

Of all Wasting, Scrofulous, and Eruptive Diseases of the Eyes, Nose, Mouth, Throat, Ears, Head, LUNGS, Kidneys, Bladder.

THE SKIN MADE PURE, CLEAR, SMOOTH, AND BEAUTIFUL.

DR. RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT Establishes a new principle of Cure of all Chronic diseases; and proves to the medical world that Consumption and other Scrofulous diseases are curable. This fact has been demonstrated in over where one Lung in over seventy cases was destroyed and dried up, and in over 500 CASES OF SUSPECTED CONSUMPTION.

ONE HUNDRED CASES OF CONFIRMED CONSUMPTION

DR. RADWAY, three years since, published to the world his analysis of the Blood in the several stages of CONSUMPTION, showing in every stage, that where tubercles become deposited in the Lungs and other organs, as in the Kidneys, Liver, Spleen, Bronchial Glands, Intestines, establishing Consumption of these organs, the BLOOD is thin, weak, pale, watery, and is deficient of such constituents as fibrin Albumen, Phosphorus, and the rich red coloring discs of the Blood Corpuscles. In the absence of these constituents in the Blood, the Blood is exhausted of strength and nourishment, and wherever there is inflammation it deposits tubercles and decomposition, it has not the power to hold in solution its natural constituents, and Ulcers, Sores, Tumors, Cancers, and Virulent Humors are formed, the presence of which causes inflammation, gathering, and consequent suppuration.

This, reader, is the true cause of the formation of Tubercles and Consumption. Dr. RADWAY was the first to advance this theory of the cause of Consumption and its kindred diseases, and prepared the RADWAY'S RESOLVENT to supply the blood with such constituents it was deficient of in these conditions of system, and to give it the nourishment and strength to hold its natural constituents in solution. Dr. RADWAY'S theory was published in England, France, Germany, and America, and was seized upon by the scientific men of both hemispheres. From his text medical books have been since published by medical writers claiming to have discovered the cause of Consumption, but have failed to produce the remedy to cure. Dr. RADWAY was the first to advance this theory, and the first and only discoverer of a medicine that will cure. In RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT the public have a remedial agent that will cure Consumption and all diseases of the LUNGS, BRONCHIAL, KIDNEYS, BLADDER, WOMB, THROAT, GLANDS, AND URINARY ORGANS.

In all Wasting Discharges, such as Involuntary Loss of Sperm, Emissions, Weakness of the Genital Glands, Leuchorrhea, and all Uterine difficulties, Gravel, Lime Stone, Brick dust, Uric Acid, and Calculous Concretions, the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT is a positive cure. In Dropsy, Diabetes, uncured Venereal, Syphilis in its many forms, it cures when all other medicines fail.

EVERY DAY

an increase of flesh, weight, and strength is experienced. It is Fat-tissue, Caloric or Heat making. It is to the blood what oxygen is to the atmospheric air, it supplies the life principle. It swiftly removes from the surface all Spots, Blemishes, Pustules, Tetters, Rash, Flesh Worms, Sores, &c., imparting a to all.

CERTIFICATE OF BEAUTY.

The following letter is from a highly-gifted lady, well known in the "circles of our best society:"

"I had not much confidence in your SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT. Having been disfigured for the last four months with BLOTCHES and PIMPLES, I resolved, at all events, to try it, and took TWO TEASPOONFUL three times a day, as directed. It is not quite ONE MONTH since I commenced its use. To-day there is not a BLOTCH, spot, blemish, or defection of any kind on my person. SARAH H. TREMONT,

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

It is now over forty years since this medicine was offered as a remedy for Worms, and from that time its reputation has steadily increased until at the present day it is almost universally acknowledged throughout nearly all parts of the world to be the sovereign remedy. Worm Confections, made more for the purpose of pleasing the palate than of overcoming the disease, have been manufactured all over the country; but their short lease of life is nearly exhausted, and B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge continues to grow in favor daily. Children often look pale and sickly from no other cause than worms, and sparms are most frequently the result of these hidden sappers and miners.

When they are irritable and feverish, sometimes craving food and eating ravenously, again refusing wholesome diet, tossing restlessly in sleep, moaning and grinding the teeth, then be assured these symptoms are indications of worms.

Uneasiness and pain in the abdomen, with swelling and hardness, are generally attendant upon the presence of these hidden sappers and miners.

A gradual wasting away or emaciation of the flesh is one of the most common attendants upon worms. They absorb the animal juices, and destroy the nourishment imparted to the stomach by wholesome diet, thereby occasioning a variable appetite and a strong desire for indigestible food.

The stomach has, undoubtedly, a very great sympathy with other parts of the body. This is the case with respect to the irritation produced by worms, especially those existing in the stomach itself. They give rise to many other diseases, and patients often suffer incredibly without being aware of its cause.

Many a helpless child has been laid in the grave, when the disease which caused its death has been entirely misunderstood, and when worms have really been the cause. It has been proved beyond a doubt that worms exist in the human system from earliest infancy, therefore parents—especially mothers, who are more constantly with their children, cannot be too observing of the first symptoms of worms, for so surely as they exist, can they be safely and speedily removed from the most delicate infant, by the timely use of B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge.

Physicians do not hesitate to recommend it, and use it in their practice, and many of the most eminent of the profession, from all parts of the country, testify to its uniform success. In fact, it never fails. It has frequently been given to children as a safe purgative, not suspecting the cause of the illness, and large quantities of worms were discharged and immediate relief afforded.

Great caution must be used by every purchaser, to be his own judge in one sense, and to examine every bottle to buys of it. The simple name of Fahnestock is not sufficient. He must look closely and carefully to see that the initials are B. A. FAHNESTOCK, and be satisfied with nothing else.

DYSPEPSIA.

THE

Medical Properties Possessed by

BELTZHOOVER'S

Dyspeptic Bitters

Are fully attested by the certificates of well known gentlemen who have tested their virtues. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Ague, General debility, and similar diseases are totally eradicated from the system by their use, while as a blood purifier and appetizer, they are unapproachable.

Doctor S. Beltzhoover, the sole proprietor of these bitters, are manufacturing them extensively at their establishment, No. 77 Third Avenue, Pittsburgh, and are prepared to fill all orders that may be sent to them.

At this season of the year the human system is generally in a debilitated condition and a tonic is necessary for the presevation of health. The Dyspeptic bitters are strongly recommended for their tonical virtues, and many persons are deriving great benefit from their use. These bitters are the best in the market, and are being generally adopted by our citizens.

Sinking Slowly.

Diseases that progress rapidly to a crisis are not the only ones to be dreaded. Canker or dry rot does not blast a tree as suddenly as a stroke of lightning, but unless arrested, it destroys it as certainly; and in a like manner chronic debility, although it does not kill with the swiftness of yellow fever, is as sure to sap the springs of life eventually as any acute disease, if not checked by invigorating medicine. There is something irrepressably touching in the spectacle of premature decay. Languor, pallor, emaciation, depression of spirits, and a distaste for exertion, are its ordinary symptoms and they should be promptly met by a tonic treatment. The best invigorant and exhilarant that can be administered in a case of this kind is Hostetters stomach bitters. The stimulating principal of the preparation rouses the dormant energies of the system and the strengthening and regulating properties give a permanent and healthful impulse to the vital forces thus brought into play. The failing appetite is re-awakened, the process of digestion and assimilation are quickened; the quality of the blood is improved, the blood is improved, the secretions becomes more natural, find every organ that contributes to the nourishment of the body undergoes salutary change. By these means the repair of the physical structure is effected and its health and vigor restored. In no disease has the benificent operation of the bitters been more marked and striking than in those characterized by general debility and nervous prostration. Ladies affected with these ailments find in this most wholesome of all tonics and correctives the safest and surest means of relief. It is strong to restore and powerless to injure. Such is the uniform testimony of clouds of witnesses.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER

RESTORES GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR, PROMOTES ITS GROWTH, AND IS A SPLENDID DRESSING. TRY ONE BOTTLE AND THICKEN UP THE THIN LOCKS!

Is the only perfected and scientifically prepared preparation of its kind ever offered to the public, and has no competitor in merit. By its use GRAY HAIR is soon restored to its original youthful color and brilliancy, which is so much admired by all. Persons whose hair is thin or falling out will, by the use of our Renewer, soon see its good effects, as, by its tonic and stimulating properties the hair glands will be incited and the hair grow thick and strong again. In cases of Baldness it will create a new growth unless the follicles are destroyed. It is cooling, and allays all itching and irritation of the scalp. It does not stain the skin as do dyes, but makes the scalp white and clean. As a DRESSING it is the best and most economical preparation in the world, as its effects last so much longer. C. F. GALTON'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.

In offering this remedy to the public, we feel confident that every statement we make in regard to its curative properties will be fully verified by all who shall themselves of it. The prescription has been used in this city nearly two years, and has never failed to effect a permanent cure whenever used in accordance with the directions, and the patient has had sufficient strength of mind to abstain from rich and indigestible food for a short time. In cases of Heartburn, Waterbrash, Constipation, and Nervous Headache, arising from imperfect digestion, and all ailments which are produced from an abuse of that important organ, the stomach, it will afford permanent relief.

As an evidence that our statements can be fully relied upon, we refer the reader to the certificates below:

"For a number of years I was greatly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and although my stomach craved food, it would immediately reject it, should I eat anything, no matter how small the quantity. I frequently attempted to leave the table when I was being able to take any nourishment. In a short time I became very much reduced in flesh, and was so weak that I was unable and unfit to attend to my business. My mind was in a better condition than my body, as I was continually oppressed with loathsome and depressing spirits. I tried all the patent medicines and prescriptions that I heard of, but none of them relieved me. I accidentally read, but a short time I reaped into my former health.

"While suffering in this manner I heard of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and concluded to try it. I had taken it but a short time when I began to feel relief, and continuing to take it, I soon could partake of my meals with no very disagreeable feeling either while at the table or afterwards, and in a few weeks I was entirely restored to my former health.

"Having suffering in this manner for from anything like a return of the Dyspepsia—I can therefore recommend it to any one suffering in like manner.

"Respectfully yours, Andrew J. Richmond.
"Pittsburgh, March 20, 1869."

"This is to certify, that during the early part of the summer of 1868 my wife was much troubled with Dyspepsia. She had a severe pain in her side, her appetite was variable, and she became quite yellow. After having used two bottles of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, her appetite became good, she was relieved from the severe pain in her side, and her complexion is changed again, all of which I attribute to the use of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy and I have recommended it to all my friends and acquaintances. All that I can do to make its wonderful properties known, you can rest assured will be done.

James A. Smith.

Continues to treat all private diseases syphillis in all its forms, gonorrhœa, gleet, stricture, orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; spermatorrhea or seminal weakness and impotency, resulting from self abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured.

It is self evident that the physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire a greater skill in that speciality than one in general practice.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be sent by mail or express.

The doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail, in sealed envelope, for two stamps. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

MRS. ALLEN'S

Hair Restorer & Zylobalsamum

Are so uniformly grateful and beneficial, that they are with justice called the natural strengtheners of the human hair. They are two entirely separate and distinct preparations, not to be used together at one time.

Mrs. Allen's Hair Restorer

Never fails to satisfy the most refined and cultivated. A guarantee goes with every bottle, that it will quickly restore gray or white hair to its original youthful beauty, gloss and color; after its use a few times the hair will grow thicker and stronger. It will stop its falling and induce a healthy and luxuriant growth. It is an exquisite hair dressing, agreeable, harmless and healthy. Entirely different from most other preparations for the hair, its composition and ingredients are nourishing, giving life and vigor to the Roots.

Mrs. Allen's Zylobalsamum

This exquisite preparation is free from any sediment, and is a toilet treasure. The urgent want of a simple Hair Dressing, for the youth of both sexes, first induced the manufacture of the Zylobalsamum, and the sale of it is perfectly immense, not only in this country, but in Europe.

EXTRACTS FROM A FEW LETTERS.

"Your Zylobalsamum is used by every member, young and old, of our family, and we consider it invaluable. Should any gray hairs appear, we shall try your Hair Restorer, which we hear very highly spoken of."

"Father and mother use your Hair Restorer, and are delighted with it. It soon restored their gray locks to their youthful color; but daughters and son still find in the Zylobalsamum all their hair requires."

From the Principal of one of our large Female Seminaries: "Your Zylobalsamum has been used for many years by myself and family, and is the favorite among our young ladies."

DR. PIERCE'S ALTERATIVE OR GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

This is [illegible] Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery [illegible] from the worst scrofula to a common eruption. Pimples, [illegible] blotches, and a scaly or rough [illegible] annoying [illegible] yield to the use of a few bottles of this wonderful [illegible]. It [illegible] bottles cure [illegible] Tetter, Ring worm, Salt rheum, or Scaly Eruptions of the skin, scrofula sores, tumors, and swellings in the mouth and stomach. It is a [illegible] medicinal extract of native roots and herbs, combining in harmony [illegible] curative properties, which God has implanted into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick. It is a great restorer of [illegible] strength and vigor of the system. Those who are languid, sleepless, have nervous apprehensions or fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of weakness, will find convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated and despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in the morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or biliousness. In many cases of liver complaint only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. For the cure of habitual constipation of the bowels it is a never failing remedy, and those who have used it for this purpose are loud in its praise. In bronchial, throat and lung diseases, it has produced many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed. Sold by druggists at $1 per bottle. Prepared at the Chemical Laboratory of R. V. PIERCE, M. D. Buffalo, N. Y. 65-3m
